

In memory of Mike Brundage

On July 22, 1988, Mike Brundage was killed in an aircraft accident while practicing for an air show the next day in Canada. Those of you who never had the opportunity to meet Mike, missed an incredible experience. His boundless exuberance and enthusiasm were mysteriously contagious. His crazy plans and schemes spread to those around him like a rumor in the Pilot Lounge. He would imagine an event and some way he would make it happen. Whether it was a wheelie from Dallas to Fort Worth or flying for the Coors Silver Bullet team, Mike dreamed it, then accomplished it. It's been 10 years and we still miss 'ya Mike.

Capt. Marshall Shaw, PHX #1430

